It did not specify the time supposed to be covered by the report. 6. It did not cover a period of sufficient duration. 7. It was signed with a hand stamp. 8. It was signed by some person whose authority to sign was not explained or known. 9. It was signed by an initial or by initials only. 10. The Z rating is never applied until after the attention of the publisher has been directed to the insufficiency of the report he has furnished and given full information how the fault might be remedied. The Z rating is most largely applied to newspapers whose publishers are better at issuing circulation claims in round figures than in sustaining their claims by facts and records.

SIGNS FOLLOWING CIRCULATION FIGURES.

(aaa) These circulation figures are from a report of an examination made by the ASSOCIATION OF AMERICAN ADVERTISERS.

(⊙⊙) Advertisers value this paper more for the class and quality of its circulation than for the mere number of copies printed. Among the old chemists gold was symbolically represented by the sign ⊙.—Webster's Dictionary.

(??) This sign is applied in cases where a publisher expresses himself dissatisfied with the rating accorded, but unwilling to convey information that will warrant a higher rating. A complimentary copy of the American Newspaper Directory will be presented to the first person who proves that a paper designated by this sign is in fact entitled to a higher circulation rating than the one accorded.

(± ±) These ± plus and minus signs indicate that distinctly separate circulation statements made by this paper at different times, but covering the same period, fail to agree. This is doubtless a circumstance going to show that there exists, at the office of the publication, a failure to appreciate the value of exactness in information conveyed for the purpose of influencing advertisers.

(!!) The general advertiser ought to make himself well acquainted with the merits of this publication before contracting with it for advertising space.

(††) This publication is "a kicker"—unfriendly to the objects of the Newspaper Directory and gives little information.

(÷÷) This publication admits that a correct circulation report would show lower figures than those credited in the last report.

(△△) No recent information or late copy of this publication has been received at the office of the Directory, and it may have ceased publication altogether.

The accuracy of this rating has been questioned by one or more persons who claim to have facilities for knowing the facts.

The accuracy of this rating has been questioned by one or more persons who claim to have facilities for knowing the facts, and it is feared that the doubts expressed do rest upon a substantial foundation.

The editor of the American Newspaper Directory has offered to verify the correctness of a circulation statement furnished by this paper, provided the publisher of the paper would agree to place the necessary facilities at his disposal. It was stipulated that the verification should be without cost to the publisher of the paper, but to this offer the publisher's response was not such as to entirely remove the impression of doubt that had been cast on the accuracy of the statement furnished.

* Four asterisks indicate that a reward of $100 was once paid for the discovery of an untruthful rating of this paper which had been accorded upon the publisher's detailed statement duly signed and dated.

The Editor of the American Newspaper Directory will consider it a favor to be informed by the users of the book whenever the name of a paper that has ceased publication is found to retain a place in the catalogue. To eliminate promptly all the dead papers is one of the most difficult problems with which he has to deal.

PREFACE.

The American Newspaper Directory is revised and issued quarterly—on the first of March, June, September and December.

At the time of going to press with the present volume —the second quarterly edition of the thirty-third year—the publishers have much pleasure in noting a marked tendency among newspaper publishers toward honest treatment of advertisers, and an insistent demand from advertisers to be told what amount of service is actually rendered them in return for the money expended for publicity.

The circulation of a newspaper is expressed by the number of complete copies printed. What is done with the printed copies has a bearing only in fixing the value or character of the circulation.

Circulation is by no means the only element of value that an advertiser will consider when weighing the probable worth to him of a particular newspaper, but is the only element that can be measured and stated with exactness.

Any publisher of a newspaper entitled to a higher circulation rating than is accorded in this book knows that it was his privilege to have his exact figures inserted had he been willing to furnish them, and that it is still his privilege to furnish the requisite information and thereby secure a correct rating in the next issue of the book, which comes out three months later. Where a publisher is unwilling to supply the requisite information, the experience of the editor of the Directory has taught him that it is always for a reason more satisfactory to the publisher than it would be to an advertiser who is thinking of using the advertising columns of the paper.

One criticism frequently made by the users of this Directory is the wide jumps between the different classes of circulation ratings by letter as explained in the key. It may generally be set down, however, that the letter ratings do fit pretty closely in a majority of cases, because it is well known to newspaper men that whenever a paper is entitled to a rating very much higher than the lowest interpretation of the letter rating accorded, a plain statement of the facts will procure the insertion of the exact circulation in plain figures. It costs the newspaper nothing to get them.

Special attention is called to the system of circulation ratings adopted by this Directory in the case of papers of over one thousand circulation. There is given a record of ratings for a series of years past, thus enabling the users of the Directory to judge the probable future of a paper by noting what its present is and what its past has been.

Guaranteed Circulation Ratings.

From 1888 to 1896, inclusive, a period of nine years, the accuracy of circulation ratings in the American Newspaper Directory was guaranteed by its publishers and a reward of $100 was paid to the first person who proved that a circulation rating, in actual figures based upon a statement received from its publisher, was not true as given. This system of guarantee was discontinued in 1897, after between three and four thousand dollars had been paid out in forfeits, because nine years of experiment had made it plain that newspaper publishers were not only not disposed to countenance the Directory in its efforts, but were positively opposed to them. Even those newspaper men who sent in figures that were guaranteed appeared as a general thing to feel as though freed from a nightmare after the guaranty was withdrawn. On the other hand, however, there has since appeared a class of publishers who have expressed a desire for the resumption of the guaranty system, and their willingness to assume a share of the burden it entails.

EVENING BULLETIN; every evening except Sunday; republican; eight pages 15x22; subscription $3; established 1847; The Bulletin Co., proprietors; William L. McLean, publisher. Office, 612 Chestnut street.
Circulation: Accorded F from 1891 to 1895.

Actual average for 1896, 33,625; for 1897, 59,281; for 1898, 113,973; for 1899, 112,970; for 1900, 124,855.

☞ The absolute correctness of the latest circulation rating accorded the Evening Bulletin is guaranteed by the publishers of the American Newspaper Directory, who will pay one hundred dollars to the first person who successfully controverts its accuracy.

After due consideration of the applications of these, the editor of the Directory has renewed the guaranty, and attached a distinguishing mark and a guaranty clause in the case of every circulation rating based upon a satisfactory statement, provided the publisher of the paper has been willing to deposit one hundred dollars in actual cash, to be held indefinitely by the Directory publisher; the guaranty to be continued year after year, so long as it is desired, or until the correctness of the rating has been successfully assailed.

The publishers of the American Newspaper Directory have often expressed the opinion that no newspaper man in the United States could be found who would hesitate to kill the American Newspaper Directory if he had the power and could exercise it in the dark. The position of the Directory publishers on this point has, however, been somewhat shaken by responses to the guaranty offer made to papers accorded a circulation rating in actual figures. These responses are equivalent to subscriptions toward sustaining the work of the Directory, and indicate a change of attitude on the part of a few of the leading papers of the country. It is gratifying to note that after thirty-three years of effort to aid honest newspapers and discourage the circulation liar, the Directory publishers are, in the fourth decade of their work, actually receiving a little substantial encouragement and aid from men who conduct the best class of newspapers and make a practice of letting their actual issues be known.

New Newspapers.

A majority of newly established newspapers cease to exist after having seen the light of a few editions. The editor of the Directory meets with considerable difficulty in obtaining definite information of their discontinuance in time to exclude them promptly from a classification in the body of the book. Sometimes several months elapse before such information can be obtained. At the time of revision of the first quarterly edition of each year, all new papers established during the preceding year, which the editor of the Directory reasonably believes to be still published, are given the customary description in Part I. of the Directory. Newspapers established or reported during the current year, and those of which no recent copies were received at the time this volume went to press, are listed in Part V. in the back of this book.

THE AMERICAN NEWSPAPER DIRECTORY.

PLAN OF PUBLICATION, RULES AND USAGES THAT PREVAIL FOR THE REVISION OF THE QUARTERLY ISSUES.

Publishers and others who consider the plan of revision here set forth to be faulty are invited to send suggestions showing where and how they believe the plan may be improved.

Such suggestions, offered in good faith, always have careful consideration. They should be addressed to the Editor of the American Newspaper Directory, No. 10 Spruce Street, New York.

The American Newspaper Directory is issued four times a year, on the first of March, June, September and December.

For over thirty years it has been continuously issued (with added care and experience)—each issue being an improvement upon previous ones. It has gained an acknowledged position as the one authentic and trustworthy authority concerning the circulation of American newspapers.

The American Newspaper Directory consists of five parts.

Part I. of the Directory contains a complete catalogue of all American newspapers and periodical publications.

Part II. of the Directory consists of a complete list of papers rated in Part I. (the catalogue portion) as having a circulation of 1,000 copies or more.

Part III. of the Directory consists of a list of Sunday papers having circulations exceeding 1,000 copies.

Part IV. of the Directory consists of Class and Trade papers having a circulation rating of 1,000 copies or over.

Part V. of the Directory consists of a list of newspapers and periodicals established or reported since the revision of the first quarterly edition of the year.

The publishers of the American Newspaper Directory began its twenty-ninth year by issuing it quarterly instead of once a year, giving up-to-date information, correcting errors quickly, and devoting especial attention to the circulation ratings of papers claiming to print as many as one thousand copies regularly.

Commencing with the June issue for 1897, there was given in the Directory a summary of ALL Directory ratings (exceeding 1,000 in 1896) accorded during the preceding five years. This system is now continued by adding the circulation rating for each year, and thus giving a comprehensive record of a paper's past as well as its present circulation. The circulation rating of all other papers is indicated by the logotype "J K L." Among these are included all papers that in times past had been variously credited with a circulation letter rating of either "J, K or L," or with actual figures less than 1,000, and which have not furnished evidence of having since acquired an actual average issue of so much as 1,000 copies.

The price of a single copy of the Directory is $5. The annual subscription for the four issues is $20, or including an annual subscription for PRINTERS' INK, $25, but the subscriber at $25 becomes a member of the American Newspaper Directory Confidential Information Bureau, and as such, and in consideration of the payment of the sum of twenty-five dollars, as aforesaid, strictly in advance, is entitled to and allowed the privilege of applying to the publishers of the Directory, at pleasure, for a confidential report concerning the circulation or character of any newspaper credited by the Directory with a circulation rating greater than 1,000 copies per issue. Such confidential reports are supplied to subscribers whenever asked for.

RULES ADOPTED BY THE EDITOR OF THE DIRECTORY IN MAKING HIS QUARTERLY REVISIONS.

As soon as one quarterly edition of the Directory is issued a revision is begun upon the edition to follow three months later.

For the revision of the first quarterly issue of the year a communication is sent to every paper on or about the 20th day of December preceding, submitting the description of the paper as appeared in the latest Directory, and requesting the publisher to furnish not later than the 15th of the following month any correction that may be necessary for a correct description of his paper in the forthcoming Directory; also, if he wishes to make one, a statement of the circulation of his own paper covering an entire year preceding, if its average output exceeded 1,000 copies.

Prior to the revision of the remaining quarterly editions the publisher of every paper credited with printing over 1,000 copies regularly is notified and an opportunity given him to send to the editor of the Directory any corrections he may have, and also informing him that it is a publisher's privilege to have the circulation rating of his paper brought up to date in the quarterly editions of the American Newspaper Directory by filing with the editor of the Directory a detailed statement of circulation covering the entire twelve months just past.

On the 16th of January, April, July and October the editor of the Directory commences a revision from reports and corrections received. Each letter or report is read and every change is noted. Correspondence coming too late for attention is put aside for consideration during the next revision.

"New Newspapers" heard of since the revision of the first quarterly edition of the year are sent for, and if copies are obtained the papers are properly described upon cards especially prepared for that purpose, and listed in Part V. previous to admission of a full description in the Directory catalogue for the following year of such as continue to exist.

Advertisements to appear in the Directory are entered at the time they are received, and those known as "publisher's announcements" (which follow the description in the catalogue portion of the book) are put in type, ready to be inserted in the page forms as they are made up. Display advertisements are also set, electrotyped and held ready for insertion in their proper positions.

On the first day of February, May, August and November the editor begins to furnish the printer copy enough for making up two thirty-two-page forms daily. He systematically prepares this copy by going over each page to see that needed changes are made, scanning the alphabetical arrangement of towns and newspapers, inserting the publishers' announcements (advertisements) where they belong and looking out for "breaks" in general. When satisfied of the correctness of the copy he passes it to the printers daily till the 25th of the month, when the last of the copy is dealt with. On the first day of the following month (the month of issue) the new Directory is bound and ready for delivery.

The Directory is intended to contain a complete catalogue of all newspapers published, and neither the name nor the circulation rating of a paper can be omitted in response to a request to that effect, because compliance with such a request would be a consent to make the Directory less than complete.

Unless there are strong reasons to the contrary, the name of a publication that is not admitted to the United States mails as second-class matter is not entered in the Directory. And under the same restrictions, any publication admitted as second-class matter is generally considered entitled to be entered in the Directory.

The object in publishing the Directory is to make an actual catalogue of the legitimate periodical press. It is intended that publications of ephemeral character, such as are not periodicals in fact, shall not have a place in the Directory. In order that some rule may be obtained by which it can be decided whether a paper shall be catalogued or not, the practice obtains that if in doubt whether a publication shall be included or excluded, it is always excluded.

In cases where a paper is dated from two places it is catalogued under the town where it properly belongs, but may be described as "dated also at" (naming the other city or town).

When one or more editions of a newspaper are issued for another town or village, after the word "publisher" in the catalogue the words "prints an edition for" (naming town), or "prints special editions for neighboring towns" are added, and the circulation rating in such cases is specified as "combined circulation." No other mention of the extra "editions" is made.

At the beginning of each year an examination of the office files is made for a copy of each paper appearing in the Directory concerning which no late information has been received. To such as are not found a wrapper for a sample copy is mailed in a "special request" envelope, and the return of this envelope by the postmaster is treated as proof of the discontinuation of the paper, and causes its description to be suppressed in the forthcoming Directory.

When the name of a paper appears in the Directory catalogue for the first time, and no circulation report covering at least six months previous is furnished by its publishers, no circulation rating is accorded to such paper unless it be the successor of another paper previously described. If its printed volume and number dates from a predecessor a rating may be given, but not if it begins a new volume.

Publications that do not accept advertisements are so indicated and have no circulation rating.

OF CIRCULATION RATINGS.

The classification or rating of a circulation in the Directory by letter is determined by what is believed to have been the regular issue of the publication for the entire year preceding.

Some newspapers fail to understand that the actual circulation average for the year past will always be stated in plain figures if wanted and the necessary information furnished upon which the figures may be based.

To report his circulation in such a way as actually to convey information to an inquirer it is deemed necessary that a publisher shall state in detail what it has been for every issue for an entire year.

Advertisers think that they can judge more intelligently from a true statement of what a circulation has been for a year past than from any sort of a statement of what a publisher believes it will be for a year to come.

A circulation statement should be signed with a pen or pencil. If signed with a hand stamp, or with initials only, or by some person whose authority to sign is not known or stated, the statement is not accepted as one the accuracy of which may be absolutely relied upon.

A report giving the number of quires used each week (instead of the actual number of copies printed) may mean for an eight-page paper one-half the actual issue reported in quires. In each case of this kind it is found advisable to look at the paper. If it has four pages there are 24 copies to the quire. If eight pages, it will not be safe to allow for more than twelve copies to the quire. A quire is 24 sheets, and not 25. A ream is 480 sheets, and not 500.

If the Directory rates a circulation too high that, of course, closes the door to information from the office of the paper. The publisher has nothing to gain, but something to lose by agitating the matter. On the other hand, a paper that has actually issued a larger edition regularly than the Directory credits it with is more willing to give information. In cases of uncertainty it tends more toward accuracy in the long run if a paper is classed too low than if it is classed too high.

When the report or description of a paper that has been forwarded to a publisher for revision comes back bearing a mark of acquiescence, or bearing no mark whatever, its return is taken as evidence that the publisher has examined it and has no corrections to make.

If a publisher returns a report without any remarks about his circulation rating, or fails to make any response to the application made to him for definite information, it is taken as an admission that the rating at present accorded him is high enough, whatever else may be said about it.

When a publisher furnishes a true statement in detail showing the actual number of copies of each and every issue for the preceding year, the aggregate number, and takes pains to show the average each issue by a calculation based on the actual figures exhibited, the statement being dated and properly signed, the paper is rated accordingly. When an actual average circulation rating is given the phraseology adopted in the Directory report is "Circulation: actual average for (year) ——," or "actual average for a year ending with (date stated) ——."

When a publisher is unable to give the actual figures for each issue of his paper for a year past, but claims a higher rating than has been given in the Directory, and seems to be in good faith, and if his assertion covers a period of an entire year, and is authenticated by date and signature, it sometimes secures a rating according to the facts stated in his report; provided he will plainly state that no edition during the past year was less than, or that every edition during the past year exceeded, or that every issue printed during the past year was (so many) complete and perfect copies.

When a publisher states what has been his average circulation for the past year, but without giving the exact figures of each issue, his report fails to entitle him to the rating he appears to claim, because the editor of the Directory ought to see the figures by which the result was arrived at, so that he may know that the calculation was made with accuracy. No publisher can tell what his average circulation has been without first having caused the figures to be set down and the necessary calculations made; and when that has been done, he may just as well send the figures for examination, and to be placed on file at the office of the Directory. A mistake may have been made which a glance would reveal.

When the word "circulation" is used without definition or qualification in a circulation statement received from a paper, it fails to inform the editor of the Directory whether it means the number of copies printed or it is intended as an estimate of the number of readers, figuring five or some other number for each copy, When a publisher states that his "circulation" has been so and so from day to day or from week to week, there is always some doubt about the meaning that is in the publisher's mind. What the Directory editor wants to know is the actual number of complete copies printed. Spoiled copies and waste should not be included in the count.

Daily papers having a Sunday issue are accorded a separate circulation rating for the daily alone, and another for the Sunday edition whenever it is possible to do this upon the information furnished.

When a morning and an evening edition of a daily are published, even though the evening edition has a different name, the circulation report is permitted to cover both editions, and is so stated in the book, provided advertisements ordered in one edition appear in both without extra charge.

In cases where, for a considerable time, no information is received from a publisher concerning the circulation of his paper, it is the rule to occasionally reduce the rating one step, unless information from outside sources forces the impression that the present circulation rating is not too high.

In cases where a daily and a weekly both have the same rating, and both appear to need cutting down according to rule, no new information being received, the weekly is sometimes cut two steps instead of one; because the tendency of the times is to greatly reduce the circulation of weeklies, people nowadays preferring dailies at the low prices at which they are sold.

OTHER USAGES.

In a town where one paper gives information about its circulation that is definite and satisfactory, and another gives information the accuracy of which no one would be justified in guaranteeing in the form in which it is given, a great deal of consideration is paid to statements about the circulation of rival publications made by the publisher who has furnished definite and satisfactory information about his own; and very little to statements about the circulation of his rivals made by the publisher who fails to make a satisfactory statement about his own.

Publishers who refrain from furnishing any information about circulation, or who furnish information in a form that is not specific and authentic, are rated by capital letters, the meaning of which is made known by the key. These ratings represent the opinion of the editor of the Directory at the time of going to press, based upon information obtained from outside or indirect sources, and uninfluenced by any recent authentic information from office of publication.

J K L rating indicates that the average issue of the paper is not supposed to exceed a thousand copies, which is the advertiser's unit of value.

An X rating indicates that a communication from the paper, in answer to an application for a revision or correction of the circulation rating accorded to it, created the impression that the paper will not be satisfied with any rating the editor of the Directory would be justified in according. A paper to which the "X" rating is applied is generally one that (in the opinion of the editor of the Directory) is likely to cost an advertiser more for a service it can render than would be required to obtain a similar benefit from some other publication.

A Y rating signifies that no recent circulation statement has been furnished from the office of the paper, and a consequent probability that the last circulation rating accorded to it may be higher than a new statement would warrant.

A Z rating indicates that a communication received, in answer to an application for revision or correction of the circulation rating accorded to the paper, fell short of being a satisfactory circulation report because of some one or more of the following shortcomings: 1. It was not signed. 2. It was not dated. 3. It failed to convey the necessary information. 4. It was not given with sufficient attention to detail. 5. It did not specify the time supposed to be covered by the report. 6. It did not cover a period of sufficient duration. 7. It was signed with a hand stamp. 8. It was signed by some person whose authority to sign was not explained or known. 9. It was signed by an initial or by initials only. 10. It was not given in such a way as would make it possible to hold any one responsible for the information it purported to give, should it afterwards be proven untrue. 11. It failed to strike an average for the period covered in detail, and thereby made it impossible to quote any figures as having been shown by the publisher of the paper. The Z rating is never applied until after the attention of the publisher has been directed to the insufficiency of the report he has furnished and given full information how the fault might be remedied. The Z rating is most largely applied to newspapers whose publishers are better at issuing circulation claims in round figures than in sustaining their claims by facts and records.

SIGNS FOLLOWING CIRCULATION FIGURES.

(aaa) These circulation figures are from a report of an examination made by the ASSOCIATION OF AMERICAN ADVERTISERS.

(⊙⊙) Advertisers value this paper more for the class and quality of its circulation than for the mere number of copies printed. Among the old chemists gold was symbolically represented by the sign ⊙.—Webster's Dictionary.

(??) This sign is mainly applied in cases where a publisher expresses himself as dissatisfied with the rating accorded, but unwilling to convey information that will warrant a higher rating. A complimentary copy of the American Newspaper Directory will be presented to the first person who will prove that a publication to which this sign is attached is entitled to a higher circulation rating than is accorded.

(±±) These ± plus and minus signs indicate that distinctly separate circulation statements made by this paper at different times, but covering the same period, fail to agree. This is doubtless a circumstance going to show that there exists, at the office of the publication, a failure to appreciate the value of exactness in information conveyed for the purpose of influencing advertisers.

(!!) The general advertiser ought to make himself well acquainted with the merits of this publication before contracting with it for advertising space.

(††) This publication is "a kicker"—unfriendly to the objects of the Newspaper Directory and gives little information.

(÷÷) This publication admits that a correct circulation report would show lower figures than those credited in the last report.

(△△) No recent copy of this publication has been seen at the office of the Directory and it may have ceased publication altogether.

The accuracy of this rating has been questioned by one or more persons who claim to have facilities for knowing the facts.

The accuracy of this rating has been questioned by one or more persons who claim to have facilities for knowing the facts, and it is feared that the doubts expressed do rest upon a substantial foundation.

The editor of the American Newspaper Directory has offered to verify the correctness of a circulation statement furnished by this paper, provided the publisher of the paper would agree to place the necessary facilities at his disposal. It was stipulated that the verification should be without cost to the publisher of the paper, but to this offer the publisher's response was not such as to entirely remove the impression of doubt that had been cast on the accuracy of the statement furnished.

* Four asterisks indicate that a reward of $100 was once paid for the discovery of an untruthful rating of this paper which had been accorded upon the publisher's detailed statement duly signed and dated.

Whenever the marks #, ##, ###, and other marks of doubt (±±)(!!), appear against the circulation rating of a paper, the circulation rating of the paper so marked is not given in the list in Part II. of the Directory, or in other tabulations, but in place of the rating the doubt mark only is given.

To "J K L" papers that are shown by correspondence on file to have claimed an issue of more than 1,000 copies, it is the practice at the time of the quarterly revision to send a copy of the regular application for information. The publisher is thus given an opportunity to exhibit his right to a higher circulation rating if he cares to do so.

The cost of issuing the American Newspaper Directory is about thirty thousand dollars a year. To repay that outlay by the sale of books, at the retail price, would call for an edition of six thousand copies. The number of copies actually disposed of in a year is not far from nine thousand copies. The sales, however, are not all made at the retail price and a good many copies go to newspaper men who prefer to pay in advertising space which though valuable is not equivalent to spot cash. Beyond the cost of the publication a reasonable profit on the business has to be provided for. It has been found that in the case of the American Newspaper Directory, like that of most newspapers, without an income from advertisements its publication would not be profitable.

Newspaper men commonly prefer to pay for a service with advertising space instead of cash, if it can be so arranged, and it has been the practice of the Directory publishers to acquiesce in this preference and accept displayed advertisements for the Directory, with the understanding that the price shall be paid in space at cash rates less the usual agent's commission.

To meet the views of some exceptional newspaper men who are unwilling, on principle, to entertain any proposal looking to an exchange, it has been the custom of the Directory publishers to allow a discount of ten per cent from the cash rate for a check in full settlement accompanying the order for an advertisement.

For the small Publishers' Announcements that follow the description of a paper in the body of the book, costing only fifty cents a line, and frequently amounting to no more than a dollar or two, it is found best to exact the cash in all cases, thereby avoiding complicated small accounts, vexatious bookkeeping and collection charges.

A free copy of the Directory in all cases goes to every person having an advertisement inserted that amounts to ten dollars or over.

AMERICAN NEWSPAPER DIRECTORY CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION BUREAU.

CONCERNING THE CHARACTER AND CIRCULATION OF NEWSPAPERS.

THE AMERICAN NEWSPAPER DIRECTORY is issued four times a year.

Orders are solicited for an annual subscription covering the issues which appear on the first day of March, June, September and December, and a yearly subscription for PRINTERS' INK, a journal for advertisers, issued weekly.

The price of an annual subscription, as specified above, is twenty-five dollars ; and the subscriber becomes a member of THE AMERICAN NEWSPAPER DIRECTORY Confidential Information Bureau, and as such member, and in consideration of the payment of the sum of twenty-five dollars, strictly in advance, is entitled to the privilege of applying to the publishers of the Directory, at pleasure, for a confidential report concerning the circulation or character of any newspaper credited by the AMERICAN NEWSPAPER DIRECTORY with a circulation rating greater than 1,000 copies per issue. Such confidential reports will be supplied to subscribers whenever called for.

Correspondence solicited.

ADDRESS

GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., Publishers of

AMERICAN NEWSPAPER DIRECTORY AND PRINTERS' INK,

No. 10 Spruce St., New York

IN dealing with newspapers and periodicals and paying them large sums for advertising it often appears essential to the advertiser to know about the stability, character, standing and present circulation of a particular publication under consideration. The information conveyed by a newspaper directory is necessarily brief and touches only upon well-defined lines. A timely knowledge of some important detail of the past, present and the probable future of a paper may occasionally prevent an unwarranted expenditure. What seems gold on the surface is sometimes only gilding.

The editor of the American Newspaper Directory keeps on file a mass of information gathered from year to year concerning the circulation and character of American newspapers. He has always at hand, in chronological order, accessible at a moment's notice, a conveniently arranged mass of interesting documents, statements, pamphlets and circulation figures, going to show what is claimed for a paper by its owners or asserted of it by its enemies and friends. By the aid of these and his familiarity with the subject it is always possible to pass the history of the paper in rapid review and comprehend and measure the claims set up concerning its value to advertisers. He is often in a position to tell about a specified publication just what an advertiser would very much like to know.

The American Newspaper Directory Confidential Information Bureau deals only with papers credited with a circulation of a thousand copies or more. With smaller circulations the general advertiser cannot profitably concern himself.

THE
Newspaper Directory

[ISSUED QUARTERLY.]

ESTABLISHED 1869.

This work is the source of information on Newspaper Statistics in the United States and Canada.

Advertisers, Advertising Agents, Editors, Politicians and the Departments of the Government rely upon its statements as the recognized authority.

It gives a brief description of each place in which newspapers are published, population, railroads, local industries, name and location of county, etc., etc.

It gives the names of all Newspapers and other Periodicals.

It gives the Politics, Religion, Class, Nationality, etc.

It gives the Frequency of Issue.

It gives the Editor's name.

It gives the Publisher's name.

It gives the Size of the Paper.

It gives the Subscription Price.

It gives the Date of Establishment.

It gives the Circulation—present, as well as for a series of years past, thus enabling an advertiser to determine the probable future.

It gives a separate list of all papers rated in the body of the book with a circulation of over one thousand.

It gives a separate list of all newspapers issued on Sunday with a circulation of over one thousand.

It gives a list of all Class Publications (Religious, Agricultural, Medical, Trade, in Foreign Languages, etc.), and a complete index to each class.

It gives a list of new newspapers established or reported during the year preceding.

It contains maps of each State, showing towns in which there are newspapers with more than 1,000 circulation.

It also contains other valuable tabulations and classifications.

The price of the AMERICAN NEWSPAPER DIRECTORY is Five Dollars—net cash, all charges prepaid.

As the most important portion of the information supplied by a mercantile agency consists of a report of the financial strength of the person about whom information is asked, so is the circulation of a newspaper generally considered the point upon which information will be of most value to the advertiser. The greatest possible care is taken to make the DIRECTORY reports correct. Every publisher is applied to systematically. All information is taken in a form which excludes any but definite statements; while every effort is made to protect honest publishers against such as would resort to disingenuous reports to gain an unfair advantage.

Opinions of Prominent Advertisers

and Others

Concerning the

American Newspaper Directory

At present my business is running along at such a rate as to make it quite sure that this year's total will be over $1,000,000. The American Newspaper Directory is one of the absolute necessities of the business. The larger the business grows, the more necessary does the Directory become, for I believe it is the only publication of the kind that makes any real effort to ascertain and state the real circulation of newspapers.—Charles Austin Bates, New York, March 15, 1901.

We find that we get a correct idea of circulations from your Directory that cannot be obtained from any other similar publication. We receive other Newspaper Directories gratis; but the fact that we pay cash for yours in addition shows that we cannot place the same dependence upon the "free list." We thoroughly appreciate the careful manner in which your Directory is compiled.—Jos. H. Hannen, Advertising Dept., Southern Railway, Washington, D. C.

About three years ago I was induced to discontinue your Directory because I was told that others were equally as good as yours. I found that this was not so, as your Directory is by far the best, and I compliment you upon the compact appearance of the latest Directory which you have brought out, of which I have just bought a copy.—Henry Romeike (Newspaper Cutting Bureau), New York, N. Y.

Last spring we had occasion to look up the circulation of a large number of newspapers, and although we had a half dozen directories other than yours in our office, we purchased a copy of your Directory and used it as the standard in the work we had in hand.—L. B. Jones, Eastman Kodak Co., Rochester, N. Y.

The care with which the American Newspaper Directory is edited, the inflexibility of its methods, the opportunities for exact knowledge enjoyed by its publisher and the comprehensive scheme of the work make it almost indispensable to the general advertiser.—Artemas Ward, Publisher of Fame, New York.

We think your present way of stating circulation is the ideal one, and we consider your Directory not only a great help to us, but a necessity. We appreciate the value of your publication so much that we buy at least one copy each year.—A. C. Meyer & Co., Baltimore, Md.

Every page of the American Newspaper Directory breathes the desire of its publishers that it shall be absolutely correct in every statement it makes.—Frank Roe Batchelder, Clerk of Committee on Banking and Currency, House of Representatives, U. S.

The American Newspaper Directory is about as important a part of our business machinery as we have in our office; we do not know how we could get along well without it.—Augustus J. Philips, President Dr. David Kennedy Corporation. Rondout, N. Y.

We have used your Newspaper Directory ever since it was first published, and find it the most complete and reliable guide that the advertiser can make use of.—R. V. Pierce, President World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

We find it the most complete and reliable of all newspaper directories, and would not exchange it for all other directories published.—Edwin Scott, Advertising Manager, The Sierra Pharmaceutical Co., St. Louis, Mo.

This book is certainly the finest publication on the subject that can be found anywhere.—Wolstan Dixey, Advertising Manager National Cash Register Co., Dayton, Ohio.

We find it an uncertain undertaking to judge newspapers by any other standard.—F. A. Partenheimer, Advertising Manager Robinson-Danforth Co., St. Louis, Mo.

We have used your Directory from its very first issue and have always considered it the most reliable publication of its kind.—Seth W. Fowle & Sons, Boston, Mass.

Yours is the only Directory we buy; we get others free, but yours is the only one that fills the bill.—O. Warner, Advertising Manager, R. E. Dietz & Co., New York.

The American Newspaper Directory is accepted as standard authority on newspaper circuation in this office.—J. R. Kathrens, Pabst Brewing Co., Milwaukee, Wis.

Our advertising department has always found the American Newspaper Directory very useful, handy and reliable.—C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

It is without doubt the most convenient and accurate reference book published for advertisers.—The Dr. J. H. McLean Medical Co., St. Louis, Mo.

I believe it carries great weight with the leading advertisers.—Chas. F. Jenkins, Treasurer Wilmer Atkinson Co., Philadelphia, Pa.

It seems to be an admirable volume in every respect.—Lyon & Healy, Chicago, Ill.

It is more than a placer mine.—J. R. Libby, Portland, Me.

THE Twentieth Century Woolen Company, of Chicago, writes to its customers—retailing tailors—as follows:

The Twentieth Century Woolen Co. is in receipt of frequent requests from its customers for hints on advertising, and while the best talent we have is always at the service of our patrons we believe it would be profitable for tailors using the columns of their local papers to subscribe for PRINTERS' INK, 10 Spruce St., New York, a weekly publication which is admittedly the best authority in the United States on all matters relating not only to advertising but the promotion of business interest as well. The following excerpts from a recent number are readily adaptable for tailors' advertising.

Then follow extracts from the pages of "Bright Sayings," which have recently become so popular.

EXPLANATIONS.

Population figures followed by a dagger (†) are from the United States Census of 1900, those of Porto Rico and Cuba being according to a census taken as of October 16, 1899, under the direction of the War Department. Population figures not followed by a dagger have been obtained from reliable local authorities.

A right for the perpetual use of these geographical indicators in the American Newspaper Directory was obtained by purchase from the late Dr. J. M. Toner, of Washington, by whom they were designed and copyrighted. They point out the geographical position of every county in each State and Territory, whether center , north , north-east , east , southeast , south , southwest , west , or northwest .

Who Originated the advertising agency system is of little importance. A growing need created it. One of the earliest and most successful workers, GEO. P. ROWELL, is still in the field. He originated methods. Others followed.

A first early step in advance was the publication of a list of all the papers—Mr. ROWELL'S American Newspaper Directory. He has never ceased to love it, and labor for it. Soon, out of the gross stupidity of imitation, it became a rule that every agency down to those of Oshkosh or Oklahoma must issue its own directory. An awful waste, for not more than one out of ten was worth shelf room. If the National Association of Advertistng Agents could agree long enough to buy Mr. ROWELL'S Directory, publish it officially and drop all the others, it would accomplish something.—From Fame for March, 1901, edited by Artemas Ward, advertising manager for Sapolio.

A Business Proposition

The planning — writing — printing and placing—the general oversight of a new advertising campaign are some of the very important features which an advertiser should carefully consider.

Along these lines we can be of valuable assistance to advertisers who feel the need of advice that comes from long years of experience and a thorough knowledge of the subject and an up-to-date equipment, that is the outgrowth of constant application as publicity promoters.

We attempt to inspire advertising matter with a distinctive character, which truly represents a concern's strong qualities and secures it attention among the mass of ordinary advertising literature.

A True Stimulant For Advertisers

If you are an advertiser, you know of the periods when ideas fail to come and when bright thoughts seem to be as rare as green corn in March.

As a matter of fact no other occupation calls for such constant and close application—hence the mental depression, which calls for a true stimulant.

PRINTERS' INK

a journal for advertisers, published every Wednesday, is the advertiser's true stimulant. It's taken in weekly doses at ten cents each, and warranted to cure mental depression unless the patient is beyond cure. It's the only stimulant that creates a lasting, wholesome habit—a habit that becomes more profitable as you keep on taking the remedy. The subscription price is $5 a year—payable in advance—yet the man who doesn't get five dollars' worth of ideas in one issue must be pretty dull.

Send ten cents for sample copy of PRINTERS' INK to

I place the utmost reliance upon the circulation quotations in the American Newspaper Directory, and the publisher who offers excuses and protests against its inaccuracy has no one to blame but himself, as a correct rating is easily obtained by simply telling the truth and supplying the necessary figures. Failure to do this places any publisher in the category of circulation prevaricators, to which class he evidently belongs.

Advertisers should patronize such publications as afford definite information and avoid all others as a rat would a sinking ship.—Advertisers' Guide for June, 1899.

We Complete the Whole Job

We will write your booklet or circular, will have it illustrated if necessary, will set the type and print it. Some of the best advertisers in the land leave such matters entirely to us. Or we will do any part of the work here mentioned. Write and tell us about what you have in mind. Address

Printers' Ink Press

10 Spruce Street, New York

WE MAKE THIS SUGGESTION:

If you are going to do a little advertising pretty soon, divide your appropriation into three parts; say of $500 each. Spend $1,000 of it in the way you think best in weeklies or monthlies. Send $500 to us to be invested in dailies only. Then keep watch and see if you don't get more valuable returns from the $500 invested in the dailies than you do from the $1,000 invested in other papers.

Live advertisers to-day use daily papers. They don't need to use anything else. The daily paper cuts quick and cuts deep. Address

The Family Kaleidoscope

Texarkana, Arkansas.

An eight-page, weekly family paper. The great home paper of the Southwest. Official organ of the women's clubs and the churches of Texarkana. Its pages are clean—no tobacco, liquor or questionable advertising accepted. Reaches over 1,300 buying families, and solicits advertising on its merits as the largest in size and circulation of any paper in this section. It's the paper advertisers should use. Send for sample copy and advertising rates.

The man who reads PRINTERS' INK will be taught how to buy advertising space, and that is one of the greatest problems which confronts the successful advertiser. Some advertisers have told me they did not understand adwriting. Few people do. I tell them to read PRINTERS' INK. They get the benefit of brains and experience in PRINTERS' INK that they could not get elsewhere for "love or money." There are two things I greatly admire in PRINTERS' INK: First, it tells the truth; second, it gives all the facts about advertising and is full of good business suggestions.

Like Warfare

Modern business is like warfare, and although the sinews are of a peaceful character, the contest depends on good generalship, modern weapons and a strategy that goes hand in hand with constant vigilance.

Advertising, skillfully and rightly directed, always taking advantage of changed conditions, is one of the modern weapons that carry within the element of commercial victory.

Such advertising must be well planned, well written and well placed. We like to hear from business men who want such advertising. We plan, write, illustrate, print and place publicity; we do all of these, or any desired part of them. If interested, call on or write to

The Saturday Post

Los Angeles, California.

The POST is a sixteen-page weekly family story paper, full of interesting literature and goes into many of the homes of Los Angeles and Southern California. It is a good paper in which to advertise anything useful to the family. Average circulation for the first four months of 1901, 7,029, and that for the last three weeks of April, 1901,

10,200 copies

The POST covers many of the towns of lower California better than any other paper. If you want trade in this territory advertise in the POST. For further particulars address

LOS ANGELES SATURDAY POST,

401-402 Stimson Bldg.,
LOS ANGELES, CAL.

The Los Angeles (Cal.) Saturday Post is the latest addition to the list of guaranteed circulation ratings in the American Newspaper Directory, that paper having expressed its willingness to have the correctness of its circulation statements guaranteed by the publishers of the Directory under a forfeiture of one hundred dollars, to be paid by them to the first person who successfully controverts the accuracy of the circulation figures accorded by the Directory. The actual average circulation of the Saturday Post for the year 1900, as reported by its publishers, was 5,021, and that for the year ending with April, 1901, was 5,471. The Saturday Post is the first weekly newspaper that avails itself of the opportunity of a guaranteed rating offered by the American Newspaper Directory.—Printers' Ink, May 8, 1901.

The contest for commercial supremacy is on. The United States are destined to be the biggest factor in the commerce of the future by reason of natural advantages, resources and superior ability.

It means greater markets, sharper competition at home and abroad.

It requires more and skillfully directed advertising.

Under equally favorable conditions, the manufacturer with the best taken care of advertising will have and maintain a decided advantage over his less alert competitors.

We aim to be of valuable aid to manufacturers of the first-class type.

We plan, write, illustrate, print and place advertising; we do all or any desired part of these. Call on or write to Publisher's announcement.—The PACIFIC WINE AND SPIRIT REVIEW has been established twenty-two years. Its circulation since August, 1900, has averaged 2,100 copies monthly, being the largest bona fide circulation of any like paper west of Chicago. The paper reaches principally the jobbers and leading retailers of the territory west of the Rocky Mountains and the jobbers of the trans-Pacific ports where there is a market for American wines and liquors. It is the only publication representing the great California wine and brandy industries. Its advertising columns also show that it is the recognized organ of the wholesale and retail wine, liquor and distilling trade.

TRUE.

MR. T. B. RUSSELL, Advertising Manager for a great London house, recently made a business trip around the world and this is one of the experiences he ran across:

A friend of mine, who represents a big American concern, goes through the colony of New Zealand once a year or so. Among the people whom my friend used to call on was a druggist, a live man, with ideas beyond his fellows. Among these ideas were newspaper advertising and window tickets. He used to run an ad with a catchline or two in it, and hang out his store window with neatly stenciled cards that reproduced the catchlines. But what used to strike my friend was the excellence and endless variety of them.

One day he asked the druggist about them. "How do you think of all these things?" The man of medicines said: "Well, I don't mind telling you. I get 'em out of here." So saying h unlocked a drawer and exhibited about a year's copies of PRINTERS' INK. "Get one of 'em every week," he explained.

The Little Schoolmaster In the Art Of Advertising

Every one who is interested in advertising ought to be a subscriber to PRINTERS' INK, a journal for advertisers.

Printers' Ink is issued weekly, and is filled with contributions and helpful suggestions from the brightest minds in the advertising business.

Printers' Ink costs five dollars a year. A sample copy will be sent on receipt of ten cents. Address ADVERTISE where you will get results. The Western people not only read, but are the most liberal patronizers of advertisers and do the most extensive mail order business.

The reason is apparent. An undeveloped empire, cheap lands and gold and silver in plenty.

The advertiser is brought in direct contact with this great class of enterprising people through the medium of the most popular Western magazine, the

Ranch and Range,

a handsome monthly, profusely illustrated with Western scenery and descriptive of the wonderful resources, life, opportunities, mineral, agricultural, horticultural and stock industries of the great West.

CIRCULATION NATIONAL—GUARANTEED

NATIONAL WATCHMAN

Published Weekly at 1229 Pennsylvania Ave., Washington, D. C.

The substantial character of subscribers generally makes this journal an exceptionally good advertising medium.

The NATIONAL WATCHMAN reaches the intelligent reading and thinking people in all sections. It is elevated in tone. No questionable advertising accepted. Its subscribers patronize advertisers in its columns because they have implicit faith in the management of the paper and do not expect to be deceived. It has Home and Agricultural Departments in addition to the general and political character of the paper.

The following General and Mail-Order Advertisers have renewed contracts for 1901:

Dr. Kilmer & Co., German Kali Works, Peruna Drug Mfg. Co., Dr. Hathaway, Dr. Miles Medical Co., Dr. Horne Electric Belt Co., Sears, Roebuck & Co., Natural Body Brace Co., Cheney Medicine Co., Stuart Dyspepsia Tablets and many others. IT PAYS THEM AND WILL PAY YOU. Rates reasonable. Send for sample copy. Address

THE FLORIDA
Christian Advocate
PUBLISHED
EVERY WEDNESDAY
LEESBURG, FLA.

Was established in 1886 as the organ of the Florida Conference. It is edited and published by Rev. Josephus Anderson, D.D., who came from Virginia to Florida in 1855.

The paper circulates in seventeen States, but mainly in Florida and among the best people. It is the official organ of 19,000 Methodists and is read by about 400 ministers. And it is read by many who read the paper through. It is loaned to neighbors and some send it to distant friends. Therefore, it is an excellent advertising medium. Subscription price $1.50 a year; $1 to ministers. Advertising rates, 12 cents an inch each insertion for more than four times; 5 cents a line when inserted more than four times. A double charge for less than four times.

THE FLORIDA STAR

Published at Titusville, Fla., every Friday.

IS THE BEST WEEKLY PAPER IN THE STATE FOR ADVERTISERS.

Circulates largely all the way from Jacksonville to Key West, throughout the entire orange, lemon, pineapple and vegetable farming sections of the State. The advertiser who wants to reach the people of Florida can do so most effectually by advertising in THE STAR.

ELLIS B. WAGER, Publisher.

The Success and Failure of Others

are always of keenest concern to the up-to-date advertiser—the one to obtain, the other to avoid. Obviously, it wouldn't be true to say that success were as easy as failure, though it's true in many cases. It's easier to make money than to save money, yet—

Printers' Ink

the journal for advertisers, published every Wednesday, is the one paper in the world that comes nearest to solving the problem how to make and to save money for advertisers. PRINTERS' INK is pre-eminently educational on the subject—from the advertiser's standpoint. It teaches, it advises, it stimulates, it suggests. It's a recognized authority on the subjects of publicity, and not to have it on your desk every week would be wronging nobody but yourself. Subscription price $5 per year—payable in advance. Send ten cents for sample copy of PRINTERS' INK. Address

GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., Publishers,
No. 10 Spruce Street, New York.

On one occasion the publisher of PRINTERS' INK said to the business manager of a Western daily: "Yes; your paper is good enough to be advertised in PRINTERS' INK." Whereupon the publisher of the daily expressed surprise that any question on that point should have a place in anybody's mind. When asked if he could name a poorer paper that he had ever seen advertised in the Little Schoolmaster's select columns, he said: "Why, of course—dozens of them!" When urged to mention one off-hand, he admitted his inability to do so, but promised to make and send in a list. This promise, however, he never redeemed. And his paper was a very good one. Possibly PRINTERS' INK is over particular about the character and quality of its advertisers.

Atlanta Daily Journal

FOR SEPTEMBER, 1900.

Advertisers wish the mediums in which they advertise to make a showing of the number of papers printed.

Not all will do so. THE ATLANTA JOURNAL is willing at all times to exhibit its subscription lists and any advertiser is at liberty to inspect pressrooms and circulation books.

The Semi-Weekly JOURNAL has an average circulation of 31,210 copies each issue, and is read by the farmers of Georgia and adjoining States.

Jewish Sentiment....

It is the only Jewish publication south of Virginia and east of the Mississippi river, and is in its Tenth Volume. JEWISH SENTIMENT is published conjointly in five of the largest and most progressive cities in the South, and is patronized by the leading houses of Atlanta, Savannah and Macon, Ga., Montgomery and Birmingham, Ala. This fact evidences the esteem in which it is held as an advertising medium by the business men "on the ground" who are best circumstanced for arriving at a correct conclusion. Advertising rates reasonable. We charge all patrons alike. No deviation from rates. Sworn statement of circulation will be furnished and subscription books opened at any time to those at interest.

The Alkahest,

The Only High-Class LITERARY MAGAZINE of the South,

Covers a field that no other Magazine reaches.

It solicits reliable advertisers, because:

1. The South is becoming wealthy and, therefore, a buying public.
2. THE ALKAHEST has won its way by merit alone.
3. It has doubled its subscription list every year for three years past.
4. It has lived and grown for five years.
5. Its rates are very moderate.

The Advertiser's Salvation

must be worked out in just one way and that's the successful way. Many paths are likely to be trodden before the right road is struck.

The 20th century advertising problems are as many and perplexing ones as ever.

The wise advertiser keeps posted what others are doing—he watches his competitor as an incentive rather than for imitation. Good information on any given subject often means success—it has won great battles and defeated commercial and political opponents.

Printers' Ink

the weekly journal for advertisers, published every Wednesday, is the foremost advertising magazine of good information on every detail of publicity—writing, illustrating, printing. It's for the novice in advertising as well as for the veteran, and it suggests something profitable for both in every single issue.

To do without PRINTERS' INK does hardly imply a thorough, up-to-date advertiser. Subscription price only $5 a year in advance.

Send ten cents for sample copy.

IN dealing with newspapers and periodicals and paying them large sums for advertising it often appears essential to the advertiser to know about the stability, character, standing and present circulation of a particular publication under consideration. The information conveyed by a newspaper directory is necessarily brief and touches only upon well-defined lines. A timely knowledge of some important detail of the past, present and the probable future of a paper may occasionally prevent an unwarranted expenditure. What seems gold on the surface is sometimes only gilding.

The American Newspaper Directory Confidential Information Bureau . . .

with the more than thirty years' experience of its founders, and with the facilities at their command, is willing to convey to its subscribers such confidential information as it may possess. It is often in a position to tell about a specified publication just what an advertiser would very much like to know. It will deal only with papers credited with a circulation of a thousand copies or more. With smaller circulations the general advertiser can not profitably concern himself.

The Chicago Weekly

EVERY THURSDAY. A Family Paper.

Probably the most enterprising of all these papers published in foreign languages is the Daily Jewish Courier. The Courier is just as enterprising as the American papers—perhaps even more enterprising than some of them. The paper was founded over a decade ago in Chicago, and has prospered ever since. To-day it prints between 5,000 and 6,000 papers every afternoon, and scatters them on every side of Chicago. Its influence among the Jewish race of the city is widespread and strong. The paper prints a weekly edition, which has a circulation almost twice as large as that of the daily and which is sent all over the world. The weekly has subscribers which are located as far away as Southern Africa.—Chicago Chronicle, April 24, 1898.

CATHOLIC PILOT is a 48 column newspaper, published weekly and is in its 26th year of publication. It is one of the oldest Catholic papers in America, and is circulating among some of the best and most wealthy people in both city and country. Sample copy free.

It is understood that it is by advertising in the weekly press that many of our millionaires have made their money. The weekly paper is not stale for a whole week; consequently this gives every member of the family an opportunity to read everything that appears therein, and very often the family next door reads it too. So that a weekly newspaper of 50,000 circulation has at least 200,000 readers. This makes the weekly paper a more desirable medium than the morning paper which is stale in a few hours, when the noon edition of the evening papers appear. Then again the evening papers are stale next morning. The weekly paper is not stale for seven days, which gives abundance of time for advertisements to be read and considered. Advertising rates, 12 cents per agate line.

For our responsibility, we refer you to the National Bank of the Republic, this city, or to any Mercantile Agency. M. J. CAHILL, Pub., 179 Washington St., Chicago.

PRINTERS' INK is the foremost publication issued in the interest of advertisers and publishers in this country. It has been published about fifteen years by George P. Rowell & Company, New York. It is the pioneer paper of its class and delights in being called "The Little Schoolmaster in the Art of Advertising." Its pronounced success has caused a cloud of papers to be established with a like purpose in view all over the country and in foreign lands. None of these has succeeded in dimming the lustre or lessening the patronage of PRINTERS' INK, which treats them all in a fatherly way and calls them PRINTERS' INK Babies. Some of the children at times turn upon the parent and say saucy and impertinent words. PRINTERS' INK never loses its equanimity, but proceeds in the even tenor of its way, promoting the art of advertising.—Scranton (Pa.) "Times" of January 15th.

HOME LIGHT is 48 columns, published weekly and in its 23d year. It is a newspaper and story paper combined. A clean family paper, non-sectarian in character, consequently objectionable to no creed or nationality. We are seekiing the whole English-speaking world as a clientage. We have now some of the most respectable people in both city and country on our list.

It is well understood that it is by advertising in the weekly papers that many of our millionaires have made their money. The weekly paper is not stale for a whole week; consequently this gives every member of the family an opportunity to read everything that appears therein, and very often the family next door reads it too. So that a weekly newspaper of 50,000 circulation has at least 200,000 readers. This makes the weekly newspaper a more desirable medium than the morning paper which is stale in a few hours, when the noon edition of the evening papers appear. Then again the evening papers are stale next morning. The weekly paper is not stale for seven days, which gives abundance of time for advertisements to be read and considered. Sample copy free. Advertising rates, 12c. per agate line.

Legal notices for Attorneys in HOME LIGHT have been recognized by the Supreme Court as a sufficient publication. Will insert advertisements of this character cheap.

For our responsibility, we refer you to the National Bank of the Republic, this city, or to any Mercantile Agency. Don't fail to send us your order. We are satisfied it will pay you.

M. J. CAHILL, Publisher, 179 and 181 Washington Street, Chicago.

A RICH FIELD.

If you want to reach a prosperous class of business men advertise in

IRON AND STEEL

It is the favorite paper of the retail hardware men of the Middle West. They look to it weekly for its market reports. They read it religiously.

It was established in 1862, and 4,000 subscribers speak for it. Its mailing list is open to advertisers. Among its subscribers are all the leading hardware firms, the iron and steel firms, both manufacturers and dealers, and the agricultural implement and vehicle manufacturers throughout the country.

Hardware men are well to do, know a good thing when they see it, and have money to buy what they want.

See its advertisers. Sample copies will be mailed on request. For rates for advertising and any other information, address

IRON AND STEEL, 40 Dearborn St., Chicago.

"The AMERICAN ISRAELITE is credited with the largest guaranteed circulation of any Jewish newspaper in the United States."—Printers' Ink.

"The best publication of its class is usually a good advertising proposition. Too many beginners want to use space in everything and do not realize that to use adequate space in the best publication of its kind will give them the most complete knowledge of their advertising possibilities at the least cost without duplication."—Printers' Ink.

None but clean advertisements of reputable houses accepted. For rates address Leo Wise & Co., Cincinnati or Chicago, or any first-class advertising agency.

Advertising that has the earmarks of honest endeavor is never lost.

To carry force and conviction it should tell a plain story, rightly presented.

The printing must be done in a striking manner. It may be plain or sumptuous in appearance, but rightly done it has the chances of success.

We are advertising agents—that's our business. We attempt to put force and conviction (the earmarks of honest endeavor) into the advertising literature we are instructed to prepare. We can be of service to advertisers by planning, writing, illustrating, printing and placing advertisements. All of these, or any part desired.

THE WESTERN TRADE JOURNAL

is now in its thirtieth year, and with an average weekly circulation of 22,810 copies during 1900, confidently appeals to the Industrial, Inventive, Commercial, Manufacturing, Mining and Financial Interest of the United States for a continuation of the favors it has enjoyed in the past, promising, with its enlarged opportunities,

BETTER RETURNS THAN EVER BEFORE

on all business with which it may be favored. The Western Trade Journal is the oldest paper of its class published in the West, and reaches a larger number of new readers, each issue, than any weekly commercial paper printed in Chicago, and is without a rival in its field. Rates reasonable. Correspondence solicited.

BRANN'S ICONOCLAST

is in a measure "sensational," but not as the idiotic paragraphs of "Daily Journalism" are sensational. Any truth telling publication is bound to be sensational in that it exposes the rottenness of existing conditions, opening the eyes of its readers with a shock. THE ICONOCLAST'S sensationalism is not that of mendacity, cowardice, deception or invasion, but it is sincere and enthusiastic, in seeking only to do good, striving to liberate the race from the shackles of superstition and fraud. THE MODERN TRAVELER, of Chicago, Ill.

Is the leading pleasure and health resort magazine of the great West and Central West, and has a large and increasing clientage among prominent people seeking such resorts. We solicit advertising from hotels, managers of resorts and others desiring to reach this important business.

INFORMATION BUREAU.

We conduct an Information Bureau free for all our patrons. We can also address and mail for hotels and resort managers, circulars, booklets, etc., to list of people patronizing either summer or winter resorts. Managers of hotels and resorts should send us a full line of circulars, booklets, photos, pictures, etc., of the attractions they have to offer.

CORRESPONDENTS.

We desire correspondents in every resort where we have no representative.

Subscription, $1.00 per year. To foreign countries, $1.50.

Hotel Card in Directory and the Magazine all for one year, $3.00. Advertising rates made known on application.

Publisher's announcement.—WEEKLY NEWS: circulation 3,500, established 1873. The oldest weekly in Vermilion County, and has a larger circulation in the county than all the other Danville papers combined. It is the family paper for hundreds of families in Vermilion County, and they are the most substantial citizens in the county. No confidence game is practiced on the advertisers in the DAILY and WEEKLY NEWS.

DAILY NEWS: Established 1876. Has the best class of readers of any paper in this territory. Circulation, 1,700; Sunday circulation 3,000. It goes to a class of people who pay for a good newspaper and who are able to buy the ordinary comforts of life and many of the luxuries, and has the reputation among them of being reliable. When they see an advertisement in the NEWS they know it is safe.

Can Increase Trade.

PRINTERS' INK is a practical magazine for business men who are interested in methods of developing and increasing trade. It gives the advice and experience of the most successful advertisers — men who use newspapers, magazines, catalogues, booklets, circulars, street cars and every known medium for securing publicity.

PRINTERS' INK is filled with the brightest thoughts and newest ideas, put before the student of advertising in an easy and readable manner. Its readers are kept informed of the latest doings in the advertising world.

From its columns can be learned the true art of advertising—how to attract attention; how to get the public to buy.

"STORE MANAGEMENT" and "READY-MADE ADVERTISEMENTS" are features of special interest to the merchant. Both departments contain practical information and suggestive helps.

There are many reasons why every man in business should subscribe for PRINTERS' INK.

Subscription price $5 per year in advance. Sample copies 10 cents.

The

Daily and Weekly Germania

is the only German newspaper in this section of thickly settled German population, and reaches people who are buyers. One of the most prominent merchants here who uses a large display and locals informed the advertising man recently that he considered THE GERMANIA the best advertising medium in this locality. Although not claiming over a 1,000 circulation for the Daily, the same often runs closer to 2,000. For our Weekly we claim 2,000. We have among our successful advertisers prominent firms who have been with us continually since our organization in 1874.

The Argonaut

SPARTA, ILLINOIS,

Has the largest circulation, the most news and is favored by the reading public above all the papers published in Randolph County. One of the best advertising mediums in Southern Illinois.

OVER 25,000 COPIES.

JUST A GENTLE LITTLE HINT FOR YOU.

THE FARM HOME,

SPRINGFIELD, ILL.

Reaches the farmers of the richest section of agricultural America. It appeals to them with special force because it is published "right at home." It is carrying more than double the advertising this year that it carried last year. It made this increase solely because it paid advertisers who want to sell in the great corn belt.

Reaches the prosperous families of the farming class of the great Middle West. Liberally patronized by some of the best advertisers in the country and considered by them an excellent medium. Advertising rates on application.

How to Advertise

If you don't know how to spend your money for advertising, or if your present service is unsatisfactory, talk with us.

Many advertisers have wasted money, thrown much of it away, you might say, because their advertising was improperly placed, poorly bought, or both.

It is our business to place advertising where it will bring best results.

If your advertising is unprofitable, if you are dissatisfied or perplexed, if you contemplate something additional or new, we shall be glad to confer with you with a view of doctoring and reinvigorating the old, or devising a new, practical and business-getting campaign.

The finest organization that advertising experience, skill and equipment can produce will be found at your disposal at our office.

We will also write, illustrate and print your advertising literature.

Our work embraces every detail, we assume all the labor and worry, you get the results.

To Reach the Farmer, Advertise in the

LOGANSPORT ADVANCE

The leading Populist paper in this Congressional District. The circulation exceeds 3,000. By an arrangement with subscribers of the DAILY REPORTER and with our advertisers we have increased the circulation of the ADVANCE to over 3,000 bona fide subscribers. The list will probably run up to 4,000 by the first of May. It is the best medium for general advertising in seven counties, as follows: Cass, Pulaski, Fulton, Miami, Howard, Carroll and White Counties. Rates on application. Published in connection with the LOGANSPORT DAILY and SEMI-WEEKLY REPORTER. The circulation of the DAILY REPORTER is larger than that of both the other dailies in Logansport combined. This has been proven by a house to house canvass and the circulator's affidavit. In making up your list do not omit the ADVANCE or DAILY and SEMI WEEKLY REPORTER. MRS. J. E. SUTTON, Publisher, LOGANSPORT, IND.

WEEKLY—12 pages, 6 cols. Published every Thursday. Circulation, 2,000.

Five Reasons why the SUN-TELEGRAM is the BEST Advertising Medium in the County:

1. The SUN-TELEGRAM has the largest combined daily and weekly circulation in Eastern Indiana, outside of Ft. Wayne and Muncie.
2. It has the largest daily circulation but one in the same territory.
3. It has the largest weekly circulation in Wayne County by at least 50 per cent, as demonstrated by weights at the Postoffice in Richmond.
4. The weekly circulation in Wayne County exceeds by 25 per cent all other weeklies combined that are published in Richmond.
5. The Daily circulates extensively in the following towns tributary to Richmond: Cambridge City, Dublin, Hagerstown, Centerville, E. Germantown, Boston, Abington, Milton, Fountain City, Webster, Williamsburg and New Paris.

THE TERRE HAUTE TRIBUNE

L. B. ROOT CO. Established 1856.
Importers and Retailers.

GENTLEMEN—Replying to yours, asking our view of THE TRIBUNE as an advertising medium we have to say, the best answer to your question is the fact that we are spending more money for advertising in your paper than any other.
Yours very truly, L. B. ROOT CO., per Geo. McL. Johnson, Pres.

The L. B. Root Company operates the largest department store in Indiana, and in 1900 used 434,567 agate lines in THE TRIBUNE. Don't you want to try it too?

Every booklet or other kind of printing a firm sends out is mentally commented upon by the receiver. It makes a good, or a bad, or no impression at all. The latter is practically a bad impression. It's an advertising opportunity needlessly wasted. The same 2-cent stamp that carried out the bad impression would have paid for a good one. Indifferent printing costs as much, or more, as good, impressive, representative printing costs. We fill orders for commercial printing, big or small. We do a neat, tasty, impressive job. STILWELL STANDARD

Successor to the Stilwell Times, Vol. 2, No. 38, established in 1898. Issued every Friday by Standard Printing Company. Circulates all over Indian Territory. Official paper of the city and district. Only paper published in all this section. Stilwell, Indian Territory, is a town of 1,200 inhabitants, the end of a division on the Kansas City Southern Railway. It is a growing town, 35 miles distant from any other town of importance. It is the coming city of the eastern portion of the Indian Territory. This also is the junction where the Ozark & Cherokee Central Railroad crosses the Kansas City Southern. The finest wheat, corn, cotton, apple, strawberry and potato crops in the land are raised in this section. The Standard covers the field. The Standard will not publish advertisements of questionable concerns. Preferred positions given NO advertiser. No special rates given to foreign advertisers—the same rates to all. The late Act of Congress providing for allotment and settlement of the Indian Territory makes this a fine field for advertisers. Address,

STANDARD PRINTING CO., Stilwell, Indian Territory.

Publisher's announcement.—

DES MOINES, Iowa, Jan. 23, 1901.

To Whom It May Concern:

I have this day completed a careful, personal examination of the books, mailing lists, paper bills and everything pertaining to the circulation of THE DES MOINES DAILY CAPITAL, and I can certify that the daily circulation of said paper is 15,780, newspaper exchanges and return papers not included. I also inspected the books showing the circulation one year ago, and find the growth has been phenomenal. The circulation is almost exclusively in the State of Iowa. THE DES MOINES DAILY CAPITAL is a high grade publication—none better in Iowa for the advertiser.

I also state that the Capital building and plant are a credit to the city and State. The Chamberlain Medicine Co. advertise in more than 6,000 newspapers, and we know and appreciate a good newspaper when we see it. We appreciate to the fullest extent THE DES MOINES DAILY CAPITAL, and predict a great future for it.

CHAMBERLAIN MEDICINE CO.

GEO. P. ROWELL & CO.

Messrs. Geo. P. Rowell & Co.,
Publishers of American Newspaper Directory,
10 Spruce St., New York City.

Gentlemen:-

We subscribe to and pay cash for your American Newspaper Directory, and find it of great value in our Advertising Department. We have 6,892 miles of railway, extending from Washington, D. C., all over the South, and in advertising this System we use more than 1,000 publications, and in selecting this list we find that we get a correct idea of circulations from your Directory that cannot be obtained from any other similar publication. We receive other Newspaper Directories gratis; but the fact that we pay cash for yours in addition shows that we cannot place the same dependence upon the "free list."

We thoroughly appreciate the careful manner in which your Directory is compiled.

Wishing you continued success, I am,

Yours very truly,

Jos. H. Hamm

The Success and Failure of Others

are always of keenest concern to the up-to-date advertiser—the one to obtain, the other to avoid. Obviously, it wouldn't be true to say that success were as easy as failure, though it's true in many cases. It's easier to make money than to save money, yet—

Printers' Ink

the journal for advertisers, published every Wednesday, is the one paper in the world that comes nearest to solving the problem how to make and to save money for advertisers. PRINTERS' INK is pre-eminently educational on the subject—from the advertiser's standpoint. It teaches, it advises, it stimulates, it suggests. It's a recognized authority on the subjects of publicity, and not to have it on your desk every week would be wronging nobody but yourself. Subscription price $5 per year—payable in advance. Send ten cents for sample copy of PRINTERS' INK. Address

NEWSPAPER advertising is the best sort of advertising for the man who has an article that can be used by everybody. It is not, however, always just the kind of advertising that should be used on all occasions for every business. Advertising, like medicine, has to be adapted to the business expected to be benefited. Having made a study of advertising we are specialists in that branch of industry, and competent to prepare and place advertising in such a way as is calculated to most quickly and economically meet the business requirement.

One Thousand Booklets for $10.

We will furnish one thousand elegantly printed and arranged eight-page booklets, 3½x5 inches in size, fine quality of paper, any color of ink, wire stitched—printed from your own copy for ten dollars—five thousand booklets for $26.

If we are to write this copy for your approval there is a moderate additional charge. Illustrations are extra also—but a few dollars put into cuts oftentimes make a booklet more effective, while others look better in plain, bold type with liberal white space as borders.

These little messengers are business bringers and can be inclosed in every letter or package that leaves office or store. They look refined and appeal to refined people. Sample mailed on request. If interested call on or write to
